SUBSTITUTE TO NORRIS BILL IS AGAIN OPPOSED

Sensational "Agricultural Bloc" Renews Its Opposition.

TO AMEND ACT

Hope to Get O. K. Of Administration By Certain Changes.

Washington, July 27.—Opposition was renewed today by the senatorial "agricultural bloc" to the administration's substitute for the Norris bill to create a $100,000,000
finance corporation for financing
agricultural exports.

Members of the senate agricultural committee headed by Senator Norris, Nebraska, met before the senate reconvened to further amend
the Norris bill in an effort to meet
some of the administration's objections to it. It was agreed to eliminate the provisions which would have had the federal government
engage in the buying and selling of farm products for export, and to cut the proposed $1,000,000,000
bond issue to $500,000,000.

By changing the bill so as to make it conform more with the administration viewpoint, the agricultural bloc planned to offer a substitute
of their own for the Norris plan,
and to thereby block the administration's measure. Senators identified with "bloc" declared it was their purpose to test the sincerity of the administration's opposition to the Norris bill but even they admitted
the administration bill would probably prevail in the end.

Until the rumpus over the agricultural legislation has subsided and
the administration's bill is either passed or rejected no action
is contemplated by the senate leaders on the president's proposal for assisting the railroad through the war finance corporation. A bill embracing the railroad financing plan
probably will be introduced by Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa,
chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, upon his return from Atlantic City where ill
health forced him to go recently.

NEW OBSTACLE TO SILESIAN PEACE UP

London, July 27.—Just as it appeared that the French Anglo relations over Upper Silesia had been healed, a new obstacle arose today.
A fresh disturbance is threatened
by the reported insistence of Premier Briand that the question of sending allied reinforcements to Silesia shall be first on the agenda
of the supreme council meeting.

Marquis Curzon upon learning of this report immediately instructed
the British ambassador at Paris to make inquiries as to the truth of the report.

If it is found to be true, England
it was declared, "must reconsider
her whole attitude regarding the treatment of Upper Silesia by the supreme council."

OBREGON FAVORS GIVING CONCESSIONS

Mexic City, July 27.—President
Obregon favors a policy of concession towards foreign oil companies it was learned today. At a joint meeting of senators and deputies, General Obregon proposed that a law
be enacted by congress giving the president extraordinary powers in oil matters. President Obregon said he believed that Article 27 of the constitution, governing foreign property rights, should be modified and that this could best be done by giving the president wide powers to deal with matters falling under the law.

The senators were willing to grant such powers but the deputies were opposed.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN ARRESTED; SPEEDING

Waukegan, Ill., July 27.—William Jennings Bryan, speeding from Delevan, Wis., to Waukegan to deliver a lecture, was arrested at Antioch, Ill., it was learned today.

The Commoner told the constable
who he was but it made no difference to the officer. The police judge shook hands with Bryan and did not impose a fine.

VETERANS PARADE

Cleveland, July 27.—More than 10,000 veterans of the civil, Spanish and world wars were to parade
today as part of Cleveland's 125th anniversary celebration program.
Gov. Davis and John G. Emery, national commander of the American legion were to review the soldiers.
A half holiday was proclaimed by the mayor.

ONE OF IRWIN'S TWO FAMILIES

Mrs. Arthur Irwin, of Boston, wife No. 1 of the famous baseball player, manager and scout, with one of her nine grandchildren, Marjorie Harris.
Irwin committed suicide by jumping from a boat en route
from New York to Boston last week. His death revealed that he had been living a double

life for more than a quarter
of a century, having a wife
and family in Boston and one in New York. Mrs. Irwin No. 1
has a son, two daughters and nine grandchildren. The New York wife, whom Irwin married eleven years following his first marriage, has a twenty-four-year-old son. Neither knew of the existence of the other.

Loses Life In Attempt To Rescue Wife In Mountains

Dr. W. E. Stone, President of Purdue University, Falls
Into Crevice and is Instantly Killed—Mrs. Stone
Has Narrow Escape but May Live Doctors Say.

Banff, Alberta, July 27.—Alpine
guides today have added a new story of heroism and hardship to the annals of the Canadian Rockies
—an episode that cost the life of Dr.
W. E. Stone, president of Purdue university at Lafayette, Ind., and may result fatally to Mrs. Stone.
Although only meagre details of the tragedy have been received here it is evident that Dr. Stone gave his life in an effort to rescue his wife.

The body of Dr. Stone was found at the foot of a deep crevice far up
the slopes of Mount Eanon on Sunday by guides who had been searching several days. Mrs. Stone unconscious and badly injured was found in another crevice nearby.

The guides brought Mrs. Stone to a temporary hospital at Mount Assiniboine, south of Banff. Doctors and nurses have been rushed to attend to her. Chances for her recovery, it was said today, are good.

Dr. and Mrs. Stone, both are experienced mountaineers and left camp Assiniboine on July 17, provisioned for four days and with the intention of scaling Mount Eanon,
"the Matterhorn of the Rockies."
When no word came from them after several days searching parties
were sent out.

According to first reports here,
Mrs. Stone lost her footing on a steep slope and fell into a crevice.

Her cries attracted Dr. Stone who was some distance away and had not seen the fall. He attempted to pull her to the surface by means of a rope but failed. He then lowered himself into the crevice and attempted to carry his wife to the surface.

In this attempt, it is said, Dr.
Stone lost his footing, fell into an

SPANIARDS GET UPPER HAND IN MOROCCAN FUSS

Heavy Fighting Continues
On Battle Front—Order
Being Restored.

Madrid, July 27.—Heavy fighting continues along some parts of the Moroccan battle front, but the Spaniards are gaining the upper hand over the rebellious natives and are restoring order as rapidly as possible according to official advices to the war ministry.

In the Melilla district the Spaniards made a sortie and occupied Munt Asayn. Communication was established with forces in that region
that had been encircled by the tribesmen.

Navor Sidiaris has been abandoned
by the Spaniards, part of the garrison embarking upon a battleship. The remainder fell into the hands of the natives.

Both sides sustained heavy losses
in the fighting around Navor Sidiaris.

FORMAL REPLY FROM IRELAND COMES FRIDAY

Belief Expressed That Peace Answer Will
Be Delayed.

HOPE FOR BEST

Think Conciliatory Attitude May Be Adopted
By Leaders.

London, July 27.—With the Sinn Fein chieftains conferring among themselves in secret at Dublin, the opinion was advanced in semi-official circles today that Premier Lloyd George will not receive a formal reply
to his peace offer from Eamonn De Valera until Friday.

It will then be necessary to communicate with the Unionist government at Belfast.

If conditions are such that a general Irish peace parley can be held in London, it probably will open during the first ten days of August. DeValera, Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins
and other members of the Sinn Fein
cabinet at Dublin have been conferring daily since Sunday have maintained the utmost secrecy and have given no intimation as to their decision.

British officials are hopeful the Sinn Feiners will adopt a conciliatory attitude now that they have given up their demand for an Irish republic. It is believed that the Irish will not insist upon their right to maintain an army and navy but will content themselves with an Irish police force.

The Unionists of South Ireland, who are already in accord with the republicans have been carrying on conversations with the Ulster Unionists
and there seems to be ground for the belief that they have reached an agreement of some kind.

If the negotiations work out to a satisfactory conclusion and the general peace parley is held to work out a final agreement upon the basis of dominion home rule for Ireland, it is probable that parliament will take the month of December to debate and ratify
the solution.

It is possible that King George may issue a public proclamation on New Year's Day announcing the new status of Ireland.

PASSENGER RATES SHOULD COME DOWN FIRST SAYS HEAD

Believe Ford's Move Will Have Little Effect On
Other Roads.

Huntington, W. Va., July 27.—
Passenger rates should come down
first in the shakeup impending in railway tariffs, stated W. J. Har-ahan, president of the Chesapeake
and Ohio railway, last night, as his private car lay in the yards here
before carrying him and his party
east.

President Harahan expressed the opinion that readjustment would ultimately be accomplished in a manner satisfactory to both shippers and railways.

"But," he added, "there are many knotty problems to solve and the process may seem a slow one."

Mr. Harahan declined to comment upon the action of Henry Ford
in raising wages and reducing freight rates on the Detroit, Toledo
and Ironton, other than that to state that in his opinion the move
would have little or no effect upon
the other railways of the country.

FIVE ARE KILLED AS AUTO STRIKES APPROACHING CAR

Automobile Crashes Head
On Into Street Car While Passing Vehicle.

Cleveland, July 27.—Five foreigners, one man, two women, a girl and a baby, were killed early today when their automobile crashed head on into an approaching
street car on the Abbey viaduct.
The auto attempted to pass a wagon and turned to the left, crashing
into the car, the driver evidently believing the street car was going
in the same direction as the auto.

The dead:
John N. Frankyck, his wife and baby, and their ten year old daughter.

Mrs. Anna Branloff.
The front part of the street car
was caved in by the crash.

TOLEDO BREAD PRICES CUT

Toledo, July 27.—The General
Baking Company and the W. B.
Ward company announced the lowering of the wholesale price of the twenty-four ounce loaf of bread from 12 to 10 cents. It is believed that other baking companies here
may make similar announcements
soon.

PROBE PRISON CONDITIONS AT LONDON TODAY

"Idle House" Disgrace To State Declares Warden Thomas

Columbus, O., July 27.—Members
of the senate committee probing conditions at the Ohio penitentiary, will today turn their attention to conditions at the prison farm at London,
and it is thought that their work, except the preparation of a report of their findings will then be ended.

Advocating the establishment of shops at which prisoners now in the idle house could be employed, Warden P. E. Thomas late yesterday declared that the idle house "is a disgrace to the state and a menace to the prison."

The proposed shops would be used
according to the warden's plan, for the employment only of Ohio prisoners
with families. The goods produced therein would be sold on the open market and the net proceeds sent to the families of the prisoners employed.

Thomas, while on the stand, explained all charges made against him
except that relating to alleged misuse of the tobacco fund. When he started to explain this he was stopped by the committee and told that he need not enter into it as the committee had decided it was without jurisdiction.

Later, however it was decided that the warden might place the explanation in the record, but no reference
would be made to the matter in the report of the committee.

MAIL BAGS HURLED FROM BLAZING CAR NOW BEING SOUGHT

Fire Breaks Out On B. & O.
Mail Car Near Akron
Tuesday

Akron, O., July 27.—Postal officials arrived here today to gather in the mail pouches hurled from a blazing mail car on the Baltimore and Ohio
road during yesterday forenoon. According to postal officials the burning mail car was attached to the mail train from Washington, D.
C. When just outside of Akron the fire broke out, and, fanned by the breeze, caused by the speeding train was soon a mass of flames. Mail clerks after fighting desperately to extinguish the fire gave up and began to hurl registered mail from the car.

An investigation today shows that 22 mail sacks of registered mail were destroyed by flames while more than 100 pouches of first class and parcel post mail was consumed.

Several hundred mail sacks were hurled out of the car and lie along
the tracks between here and Sterling
where the train was stopped and the badly burned mail clerks removed.
They are now in the hospital at Sterling.

BANK PRESIDENT'S WIFE IS DETAINED

Chicago, July 27.—Confident that Mrs. Myrtle P. Spurgin, wife of Warren C. Spurgin, missing president of the Michigan Avenue Trust Company and her daughter, Miss Vivian Spurgin have not told all
they know, Chief Investigator Ben Newmark, of the state's attorney's office, planned further questioning
of the two women today.

Mrs. Spurgin and her daughter were taken into custody here last night on their return from Detroit.

Newmark will endeavor to obtain from the women some clew to the whereabouts of Spurgin who is alleged to have embezzled more than $1,000,000 of the bank's funds.

STERN WARNING SENT SOVIET RUSSIA BY UNITED STATES TO RELEASE AMERICAN PRISONERS

New Demands Made For Immediate Surrender of U. S.
Citizens Held Prisoners—Horrible Conditions
Related in Letter From Captive.

Washington, July 27.—The United States has made new demands upon Soviet Russia for the immediate release of American citizens who are now held prisoners in Russia, it was learned at the state department today.

This is understood to be the first
direct demand made upon Soviet Russia by this government for the release of the Americans, previous overtures having been carried on through neutral agencies.

The communication is understood to contain a stern warning to Russia
that the soviet authorities can hold
no hope for any American aid for the people of Russia who are reported to be suffering from starvation and disease while American citizens are being held in prison under soviet orders.

There are now about eight Americans who are in jail in Russia and approximately 100 more who are being detained by the soviet authorities,
although they are not actually imprisoned.

The action of this government is understood to have followed receipt of a letter from one of the American prisoners in Russia relating the horrible conditions under which the prisoners are being held and making a dramatic appeal for stern measures
by this nation to secure the liberty
of the American prisoners.

Captain Emmett Kilpatrick of Alabama one of the Americans held in Russia, has communicated most urgent appeals. It was learned that these appeals together with those forwarded by other prisoners have moved this government to abandon their effort to secure release through neutral agencies and to enter into direct negotiations with the soviet authorities.

"Arrest Me In Chicago" Is Small's Request; Refused

Sheriff Smells Mouse and Wires Governor That He Will Not Serve Warrants in "Windy City"—Believe Request Part of Plan to Obtain Freedom

Springfield, Ill., July 27.—Three warrants for the arrest of Gov. Len Small, of Illinois were turned over today to Sheriff Henry Hester of Sangamon county for immediate service.

The long arm of the law by this action began to reach out for Illinois'
chief executive. It also marked the opening shot by the state in its battle to compel the governor to submit to the jurisdiction of state criminal courts.

The 24 hours of grace allowed the governor for a "peaceful" surrender have expired, it was announced.
The governor last reported in Chicago
has announced his willingness to submit to arrest in that city but local authorities desire to arrest him in the state capital.

REAL REASON FOR SEIZURE OF NINE VESSELS OBSCURE

Both Sides In "Shipping War" Lining Up Legal Batteries.

New York, July 27.—While both sides in the "shipping war" are busily
tuning up their legal batteries today
the real reason for the United States shipping board seizing nine great Trans-Atlantic liners allocated to the United States Mail Steamship company remained in obscurity.

Shipping Board officials in New York should assign no other reason for the seizures than the fact that the mail line owed the board $400,000, nor would they indicate whether the action pressed a general seizure of ships from companies owning the board
real money.

Chicago, July 27.—Gov. Len Small under indictment for embezzlement of $500,000 of state interest funds during his term as state treasurer wants to be arrested in Chicago today but may not succeed in having his wish fulfilled.

In a telegram sent to Sheriff Henry Mester, of Sangamon county, at Springfield, Albert Fink, attorney for the governor, informed Mester that Small would submit to arrest any time today in Fink's office in Chicago.
In reply Sheriff Mester telegraphed that he would not come to Chicago to serve warrants on Governor Small
and advised Fink that the governor might give bond in Springfield at his convenience.

The desire of the governor to be taken into custody in Chicago, it is said is a part of a plan to obtain immediate freedom from the indictments
for the chief executive. Should the governor be arrested here it is believed an immediate writ of habeas corpus would be asked either in circuit or superior court.

Governor Small arrived in Chicago
last night and immediately conferred with several of his attorneys and advisers.

His only comment here upon the action of Judge E. S. Smith at Springfield yesterday in declining to hold
that the chief executive of the state is immune from arrest on criminal charges was to remark:
"I am still a free man."

Officials of the mail line disclosed
that they had offered to deposit $400,- 000 in escrow as a guarantee of good faith but this offer, they said had been turned down by the shipping board,
which insisted that the fleet be turned over to the United American (Harriman) line, a competitor.

It was further charged that the Harriman lines themselves, owed the shipping board $7,000,000. Officials would neither confirm nor deny this,
referring inquiries to the shipping
board.

EXPECT TO CLOSE CASE WEDNESDAY

Chicago, July 27.—With the testimony of William Maharg, the case of the state against the ball players
and alleged gamblers accused in
the 1919 world's series scandal is

today. Judge Hugh M. Friend will hold a night session if necessary,
he announced to complete Maharg's
testimony.

HARVEY PREPARED TO DISCUSS YAP MANDATE QUESTION

Issue If Brought Up at Meeting of Supreme Council to be Open

Washington, July 27.—Ambassador
George Harvey is fully prepared to discuss the question of a mandate
over the island of Yap if it should be brought up at the forthcoming meeting of the supreme council, it was learned officially today.

The ambassador has been apprised
of every detail of the administration's attitude toward the question and is authorized to conduct negotiations for the government in case any allied premier sees fit to attempt to bring about a settlement. It is likely however that Colonel Harvey will himself urge consideration of the Yap problem as conversations are now in progress on the subject between Secretary of State
Hughes and Ambassador Shidehara.

This does not mean that the United States would resent an attempt on the part of the supreme council to reach an agreement on mandates. On the contrary, the administration would welcome a settlement of that troublesome
question regardless of time or place,
and if any of the allied premiers wish
to initiate such a discussion Harvey
will place no obstacles in his way.

ments shall be sent to Upper Silesia

allied ambassadorial council today
decided to refer the question to the supreme council when it meets. In the meantime the order for the sending of a division of French troops to Upper Silesia has been cancelled.

XENIA SHOE MANUFACTURING COMPANY HAS ENOUGH ORDERS ON BOOKS TO KEEP PLANT RUNNING FULL FORCE UNTIL FALL

"The Xenia Shoe Manufacturing Company has sufficient orders sold for fall delivery to keep the plant running full force."

This was the statement of P. H. Flynn, president and general manager of the company, Tuesday. "We made a large line of novelties in fancy footwear, in new style lasts and patterns that were strictly up-to-date, which took well with the trade," said Mr. Flynn. "Twenty-five salesmen carried the full line of samples, and they were shown in every state in the United States, and shoes can be seen going through the plant now for customers in all parts of the country, from Maine to California."

The statement of Mr. Flynn, casts an optimistic view point on the local industrial situation. The shoe factory felt the effect of the general business depression that followed closely on the heels of the war, as well as other concerns, and during the reconstruction period the plant was idle for several weeks. For a factory that has operated almost continually, with very little time off, in this city for the last 31 years, the unusually long lay-off was felt, but with all employees back at work, at present indications are that the plant has a more rosy future than ever.

"The pronounced styles and leathers used are black kid, tan and brown kid, tan calf and black calf, and a large percentage of shoes for fall have been sold in low cuts, straps and oxfords. This is unusual," said Mr. Flynn. With a wide selection of new lasts running from even a size "1" up and in widths from "triple A's" up, the local plant is now manufacturing a sporty brand of shoes, especially in tan oxfords. The new slightly square toe for women with wing tips, fancy stitching, and perforations are all indicative of the extreme in fall shoe styles for women. It may also be news to many Xenia people to know that the local company no longer manufactures misses or children's shoes, specializing only on woman's shoes, with the idea that better shoes will result. Although the company manufactures both welts and McKays, it is indicative of the status of popular demand and of the quality of the company's customers, that ninety per cent of this year's output is made on the welt system.

The output of the plant is sold direct to a large retail shoe trade. The company does not sell to jobbers maintaining that factories selling the retail trade have a steadier business and the local company has several thousand customers on its books, that buy locally made shoes every season.

Harry Jack, who learned the cutting trade with the Xenia company and was employed with the local concern fifteen years, will be head of a new school to teach cutters, according to the announcement of Mr. Flynn, Tuesday. Mr. Jack will be assisted by Earl Lawson, foreman of the cutting room, himself an expert shoe cutter, who has been employed in the larger shoe centers, and who came here after spending ten years in Lynn, Mass., the seat of the shoe manufacturing business. Young men will be taken into the factory and trained in the art of shoe cutting which is rated as one of the best trades in connection with the shoe industry. "As a rule," says Mr. Flynn, "factories do not like to employ inexperienced help in the cutting department, because it is so easy to waste more than their wages in not cutting the material to advantage, as material for high shoes is expensive. The market price for tan kid today is 85 cents per foot and to cut a high shoe requires four feet of leather. The school opportunity is open to young men of 18 years of age, who have passed the eighth grade in school and whose home is in Xenia, and have ambition enough to learn a trade that is a valuable asset for any man. Good cutters are always in demand. Thirty-three percent of the shoes that are made here are cut in Cincinnati. These shoes should be cut here, as this takes considerable money out of the city every year," said Mr. Flynn.

"There will also be an opening for young women over 18 years of age who have passed the eighth grade in school to learn the trade of fitting shoe uppers," continued Mr. Flynn. "There are now 75 women employed in this department, and the number will be increased to 100. Good wages are paid while learning."

Cards giving the name of the purchaser attached to each lot of shoes in process of being made throughout the factory, demonstrate the fact that Xenia made shoes travel all over the country. Allotments are in process of being finished for shoe stores in New York City, and Aberdeen, Washington. Store names from Portland, Maine to Riverside, California, are found on the cards. A dainty boot that will be sent direct into the shoe-making state of Massachusetts is standing on a rack next to one containing ladies high tan calf hunting boots, reaching almost to the knees that are marked for shipment to Wyoming. The order cards on each batch as it travels from office to cutting room, to fitting room, to lasting room, to welt room and to the various other rooms until, highly polished, stamped and shining, they reach the gay boxes in which they will grace the shelves of some far off store tell an interesting story. It is also interesting to note, shoes with odd vamps and round toes consigned to the foreign trade, and the unusually small lasts used for the manufacture of shoes consigned to districts that are largely French and where Milady's petite feet require the smallest of sizes.

Word has been received in this city of the death of Mrs. Lucy A. Pease, 86, widow of Perry J. Pease, who died Sunday night at her home in Bellbrook.

Mrs. Pease has spent practically all of her life in Bellbrook. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Walter Shafer of Oakwood, Dayton, and Mrs. John Turner of Bellbrook, and one son, John Pease of Vandalia.

Funeral services were held in the West Carrollton cemetery, Wednesday morning, following services at the residence at 10 o'clock.

OCCUPIES SITE FOR NEARLY 25 YEARS

When the Miles Bros.' shoe repair shop moved from its location on Green street, to the new location on West Second Street, William Miles, senior member of the firm made his first business move in 24 years.

Mr. Miles became associated with the late George Kingsbury, in the shoe repair business in a small room on Green street, which is situated between the present locations of L. S. Barnes & Co., and the Cleveland Candy store 24 years ago. When Mr. Kingsbury retired he took over the business himself, and ten years ago his brother, Edward Miles, became associated with him.

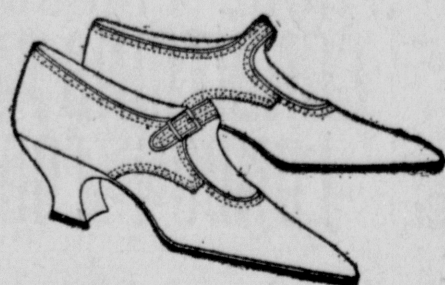

They had since conducted their business in the same room. Recently the firm moved to the location in the Knights of Pythias Hall building, on West Second street, in the room occupied for years by the late John Dillencourt, in the same business at 7 West Second street.

CHANGES IN GAME LAWS ARE NOTED

Local game officials call attention to several changes this year in regard to the hunting of fur-bearing animals. In some instances the open seasons have been shortened and in others lengthened.

A departure from last year's rulings is that deer, raccoon, squirrels and rabbits may be taken from September 15 to October 20. The bag limit is five per day. They cannot be bought of

WHAT TO EAT TO PUT IRON IN YOUR BLOOD AND MAKE YOU STRONG

PHYSICIAN TELLS HOW IRON-CONTAINING VEGETABLES SUCH AS LENTILS, SPINACH, APPLES, ETC., WHEN REGULARLY TAKEN WITH ORGANIC IRON BUILD GREAT STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

At their own doors—in the very gardens of those who are weak, nervous and ailing all the while is one of the most valuable tonics and strength-builders known to medical science, said Dr. James Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.) and the Westchester County Hospital, New York, when consulted recently.

Dr. Sullivan further said: "If your daily diet contains an abundant amount of iron you are giving your body the red blood food it craves. But if your blood lacks iron and is thin, pale and watery you cannot expect to be strong and well. On the contrary, your nerves become weakened and you become irritable, fussy and easily upset. In such cases, what you need is iron—organic iron to remove the cause of your trouble, and the moment organic iron is supplied it is often wonderful how quickly your multitude of symptoms will disappear and how strong and vigorous you will become." But be careful to distinguish between ordinary metallic iron which people usually take and true organic

DO YOU wish to know how thousands and thousands of women have gone thru motherhood without knowing some of the pains and discomforts incident to childbirth? Listen to this!

Motherhood creates almost a new state of being for a woman.

As a result, new nerves, those heretofore restful and quiescent, spring into activity, they cry out, they tingle, they burn in their unrest.

The network of nerves across the abdomen, the loins, the back and other parts now become super-sensitive. All these nerves are being called on to perform unusual duties.

These nerves must be pacified and comforted; must be put in condition for the crisis that is pending.

If these nerves are not soothed and quieted, they may set up aggravated nerve tension, increasing in severity from month to month, sometimes even culminating in a nervous paralysis of the back and limbs. This leaves the mother-to-be in a condition where she is unable, fully, to meet the test when the climax of maternity arrives.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oil, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

Used by Expectant Mothers for Three Generations

Mother's Friend is used externally as a massage; and its purpose, thru daily use, is to gradually, gently and effectively relax the muscles and nerves involved in the function of child-bearing; to make the skin soft, pliable and elastic so that it may expand easily and naturally as the abdominal parts enlarge—thereby relieving the tension and strain on these muscles and nerves of the otherwise severe distension before delivery.

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, 515 Palm St., Scranton, Pa., says:

"I am willing and anxious to tell any mother about Mother's Friend. It did me so much good that I wouldn't be without it if it cost $5.00 a bottle. With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I only had a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

Many doctors and nurses recommend Mother's Friend. It contains no narcotics, or habit-forming drugs and is perfectly harmless. All drug stores carry Mother's Friend.

Police say they admit robbing Franklin garage, near Hamilton, early Sunday morning. Mrs. Conery, also robbed will come from her husband's funeral at Sharon, Pa., to look at the trio. Condit denies any knowledge of the crime by declaring he was asleep in the car. The others refuse to answer questions on the slaying. The Franklin charge will be postponed, while further investigations are carried out.

CONVERSATION OF BALL PLAYER TOLD ON WITNESS STAND

Chicago, July 27.—William "Bill" Maharg, the state's last witness in the "black Sox" scandal trial, today testified on the stand that he heard Eddie Cicotte tell Bill Burns that he and Chick Gandil were going to throw the 1919 world's series. The alleged conversation between the former White Sox pitcher and Burns took place according to Maharg, at the Ansonia hotel in New York shortly before the series.

Maharg's inside story of the bribery, double crossing and intrigue in connection with the throwing of the series was considered a strong card in the prosecution.

The state was expected to finish its case with Maharg's testimony today.

The first witness of the morning was Arthur E. Hammer, room clerk at the Sherman hotel here. He was asked to identify several photographic copies of the register of the hotel during the series and in each instance picked out the handwriting of Abe Attell, whom he said he knew well.

Questioning of Maharg was conducted by Special prosecutor Geo. E. Gorman.

Maharg testified that he was employed by the Ford Motor Company. Referred to at various times as a "gambler," "ball player" and "baseball writer," the witness has been considered as an enigma in the case.

The witness told of seeing Cicotte and Gandil in conversation with Burns at the New York hotel.

SOUTHEAST DENIES FAMINE CONDITIONS ARE NOW EXISTING

Washington, July 27.—Despite the protests from the south the public health service is pushing ahead with plans to combat pellagra.

Surgeon General Canning is preparing a report on the situation today which will be rendered to the president. Although it was admitted following a conference between Surgeon General Canning and Dr. Livingston Ferrand that the pellagra situation is not as serious as it had been believed it is maintained that it constitutes a situation that must be carefully watched.

Atlanta, Ga., July 27.—The southeast resents the statement that a famine condition exists in this section and that a result of this famine is an epidemic of pellagra.

Every state in this section has offered a denial of the reports and in one state—Georgia—the state senate has adopted a resolution denouncing the statement that epidemic pellagra exists in Georgia is absolutely untrue.

The press of Florida takes the position that the statement made in Washington was for the express purpose of showing that the Republican party has magnanimously come to the rescue of a suffering people.

Newspapers of that state devoted much space today to what they termed an effort to carry the real truth to the people and to offset as far as possible the injury already done.

It was declared that such "propaganda" would destroy the moral of many people in the south as well as discourage northern capital seeking southern investment fields.

CAMP SHERMAN TO GO SAYS WEEKS

Washington, July 27.—Reduction of the army to a peace-time strength of 150,000 men will be accomplished by July 31, Secretary Weeks announced. There also will be a general redistribution of troops, practical abandonment of seven of the great war-time cantonments, placement of many organizations on the inactive list and skeletonization of others into materially reduced strengths.

The cantonments to be abandoned "at the earliest practicable date" are Camp Devens, Mass.; Sherman, O.; Pike, Ark.; Grant, Ill.; Jackson, S. C.; Meade, Md.; except for a small detachment, and Bragg, N. C. Those to be retained under the plans of reorganization are Dix, N. J.; Travis, Tex.; Lewis, Wash., and Knox, Ky.

Disposition of the troops now at Camp Sherman will include the removal of the 2nd Inf. to Fort Sheridan, Ill. and the 3d Inf. to Fort Snelling, Minn. The 10th Inf. Training Corps, part of which is at Sherman and part at Columbus Barracks, will go to Camp Knox, Kentucky, and the 19th Inf. training regiment will go to the Presidio, San Francisco.

In the general shakedown, one battalion of the 11th Inf., will come to Columbus Barracks.

CAN USE LIMITED NUMBER OF TEACHERS ONLY COMING YEAR

That only a limited number of elementary teachers with temporary certificates can be used this coming year, is the text of a communication received by H. C. Altman, county superintendent of schools from Vernon M. Riegel, state superintendent.

"It is important," says the communication from Mr. Riegel, "that those who have, or can secure regular certificates should have first consideration for vacancies. In order that there may be some uniformity of action we direct that no temporary certificates be issued this year without submitting the facts to this department before the certificates are issued."

According to the communication the following requirements will be necessary; that the applicant shall have made a successful grade on the special examination; that the applicant's credits shall have been evaluated by the state department of education and found sufficient; that there be a vacancy for which a suitable teacher with other qualifications is not available; that there be no evidence that the teacher has been elected by a board of education without an effort to secure a teacher with better qualifications.

FARM BUREAU HEAD WILL DELIVER TALK AT FARMERS' PICNIC

National President Howard, of the Farm Bureau Federation, will be the speaker at the annual farmers' picnic to be held at the Greene County Fairgrounds August 20, under the auspices of the Greene County Farm Bureau.

This was the announcement made, Wednesday, by Fred Keeler, acting county agent during the absence of County Agent Ford S. Prince, who with Mrs. Prince is visiting in England. Plans being laid for the picnic insure that it will be one of the best of the annual affairs held for the farmers of the county, and its importance is increased through the promise of Mr. Howard to address farmers on that day.

An effort is also being made to secure L. J. Taer, Secretary of Agriculture in this city, and former State Master of the Ohio Grange, to speak at the picnic, and in case he accepts the promoters of the annual affair are assured of one of the most important speaking staffs in the history of the speaking program of the picnic. Farmers will bring their baskets and spend the day at the grounds.

The City and Oakwood companies are operating with non union men while three other lines have their former men back. Buses are doing good business, too. The first serious fight in the strike came last night when Henry Glascoe was badly cut by a bus.

CHINESE LAUNDRY CHANGES OWNERS

D. G. Jean and Lee Jean, Chinese, took possession, Tuesday, of the Chinese laundry operated in this city in the past by Sam Chong, through a deal completed a short time ago.

Sam Chong, whose real name is Hong Chong, Hom according to Chinese customs being the family name, and Chong the given name, but who adopted Sam Chong as a more simplified name, and to use in America, retires from the local business field by the deal.

Sam Chong came to this country when fifteen years of age in 1882, and except for several visits to his home near Canton, China, where his wife and children live, he has lived in this country ever since. He purchased the laundry here from Harry Leong eight years ago. Although his original intention when selling out was to return to China, it is possible now that he will not return to the old country for a time and may remain in this city.

This sum is squandered annually in "wildcat" investments, according to the Federal Trade Commissioner's Report.

Anxiety to attain financial independence too often induces people of limited means to yield to the glittering promises of extraordinary reward offered by unscrupulous promoters.

Keep In Good Health

The man who neglects his health will fail just as the man does who neglects his business. Nearly every business executive from Charles M. Schwab the million-dollar-a-year man to the fellows just inside the income tax law have made this statement. Its truth is recognized.

If your body is weak, the cause will be found in an interference with the transmission of nerve impulse to some organ. The chiropractor by his adjustments removes that pressure, and Nature, being then free to act normally, restores health.

THE DISARMAMENT PARLEY A NEW BLOW TO THE FRENCH LANGUAGE.

Despite Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's eulogy of the French language as a "marvelous flexible instrument of speech" at his reception before the French Academy, it is evident that French diplomats and savants are genuinely agitated over the future prestige of what heretofore has constituted the language of diplomats. On the same day when Dr. Butler was reassuring the "immortals" that French was the language of great minds President Harding's invitation to the disarmament conference clearly specified that English should be the language used.

Since then a discussion has opened in the French press asking if this is the signal for the adoption of English at all future international conferences, and if French is going at last to take its place with the dead languages. It is pointed out that at the Congress of Frankfurt between Germany and France the Prussian victors recognized the supremacy of the French language and that it was only at the later Peace Conference that Clemenceau had the "imprudent courtesy" on several occasions to speak English in the council of five. It is pointed out variously in the French press that the French Government ought to indicate that neither Belgium, Holland, Japan, Italy nor any other Powers have specialized in English-speaking diplomats, since in the past all nations trained their representatives to speak French and that in the present circumstances it will be only Premier Lloyd George and President Harding who will have the advantage of a complete understanding.

Nevertheless it is considered that the use of English is the opening wedge of the Anglo-Saxon in forcing a new language of diplomacy and it is believed that if such an important congress adopts English it will set a precedent for all subsequent discussions which must emanate from the historic conference in Washington.

JAPAN FACED ISOLATION IF SHE FAILED TO ACCEPT.

Japan has thought it over and is reported to have decided "to accept unreservedly" the invitation to participate in the Conference on Disarmament. "Unreservedly" means that Japan will discuss with the five other nations present the status of affairs in the Far East and in the Pacific.

The Japanese decision removes the last trace of obstacles from the way. As pointed out, Japan faced isolation if she failed to accept. The common sense of Tokio saw that before the cables had ceased to hum with the State Department's message. The swift and decisive acceptance of the Western nations left Tokio with nothing else to do, had the Japanese been minded to make difficulties. Japan did not choose to remain a "lone wolf" among the nations.

The decision of Japan is understood to be subject to review by the Diplomatic Advisory council a sort of super-council having the last word on foreign policies. It is hardly likely that any arguments opposing participation will prove more effective there than they did in the Japanese Ministry. Both sentiment and circumstances helped to make up the Nipponese mind.

President Harding is now in a position to proceed with the details of summoning the conference. He can give his mind, and the thought of "the best minds," to picking the personnel of the American representatives. The move for disarmament and all that it implies has moved forward one step more.

IF WE OVER-RUN THE DANGER SIGNALS WE ARE SURE TO RUE IT.

Sooner or later, there is impressed on each of us the need of taking care to keep the human machine in running order.

Childhood gives little heed to the matter. One of the blest immunities of youth is freedom from care about tomorrow, the absence of anxiety for today. A child is hurt, and Dame Nature has indulgently repaired the damage almost as soon as the tears are dried. After any injury or illness, the child comes back quickly. Youth is resilient. The system promptly returns to what it was without registering an ill effect.

As we grow older we learn the need of care. We do not so soon revert to the original condition after fatigue and stress. We learn to avoid a diet or a deed that is not for our good. We do not always act upon the knowledge that we have. But if we over-run the danger signals, we are sure to rue it.

Some men train for an event; some men train for a life. An athlete is rigorous in abstinence and self-denial till the race is rowed, the game is played, the meet or the bout is over. Then he thinks he has a license to cut loose again. But a man bound to keep fit for the business of living cannot afford to "break training." He may relax, he may rest; but his vacations are periods for the restoration and not the destruction of his energy. For his amusement he finds that which builds him up, that he may do his work better when he comes back to it.

A vacation never was intended for a dissipation. The purpose of it is an improvement in the general physical condition. Those who are idle always, whose life is one long playtime, do not know the recuperative meaning of a respite. Never having toiled, they cannot enjoyably rest. The fun is his who has worked hard to deserve the recreation. And when the recess comes in his business he does not find it pleasure to sit idle in stagnation and vegetation. He finds something to do—some interest mental or manual—to keep him occupied.

The man who would be fit takes care that neither mind nor muscle is atrophied by disuse. You cannot wish any man, at any age, a crueler fate than that of having nothing to do.

marked citrus fruits are sold direct by the growers in carload lots, the wholesale houses in turn furnishing supplies to retail dealers as needed. The supply of these advertised brands of oranges, lemons, grapefruit, etc., and the demand therefore absolutely determine the prices at which they can be bought from day to day.

This is only another illustration of the advantages to readers in following advertising closely and constantly. It is their strong protection against questionable quality and unfair prices in every line of marketable merchandise. It means giving greater purchasing power, to every dollar spent and receiving satisfaction with every purchase.

EVERY TIME YOU EAT AN ORANGE

Culls

9 Out of 10

Printer's Ink

Northern People

The Peach Raisers

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

Amid the citrus fruit groves of this country are located hundreds of co-operative packing houses. In each of these it is a fixed rule that all "cull" oranges and grapefruit must be discarded from outgoing shipments.

"Cull" fruits are ones so deficient in eating or keeping qualities that they fail to give satisfaction in the homes of consumers. Most of them would rot on the way to market, or at least reach destination points with a heavy percentage of decay.

In many of the packing houses of the co-operating growers the importance of close and careful grading is emphasized by large signs in full view of all employees, worded substantially as follows:

"All 'culls' must be eliminated; every doubtful orange or grapefruit is a 'cull'."

There are thrown aside not merely the fruits that are clearly unfit for shipment, but all the oranges or grapefruit about the quality of which doubt may exist. When a carload moves toward a consuming center it contains only fruit that gives evidence of the elements that will carry it through with a minimum of loss by decay and assure ultimate buyers full value for their money.

There is a loss to the grower on every "cull" orange or grapefruit; it costs money to have them picked out and destroyed. Formerly it was the custom to pack and ship everything as the crops came from the grove, poor fruits along with the good. Why has there been adopted the policy of selection? What is the reason for all the care and precaution to prevent the shipment of inferior fruits?

Advertising is the answer to these questions. The citrus growers who co-operate in the marketing of their product, to avoid the speculation in them, which means unfair prices to consumers, are liberal advertisers. Long ago they found that the use of printer's ink was necessary in order properly to inform the people of the North as to the food and health values of good oranges and grapefruit. So they adopted a trade name—suggestive of inner goodness—and have since offered their fruits to the public under this identifying mark.

The representations as to quality made in citrus fruit advertising could not be sustained if "cull" oranges and grapefruit were permitted to go on the markets under the trade-marked brand. Originally decided upon by growers as perhaps the most economical means of getting information regarding the product of their groves before the housekeepers of the nation, advertising has become a bulwark of protection for consumers of citrus fruits. It is because they are advertised that the orange and grapefruit shipped by members include none of "culls" which would prove so disappointing to buyers.

Exactly the same principles and policies govern the operations of another great co-operative organization engaged in the handling of citrus fruits from another section of the country. Indeed, by reason of greater age and correspondingly larger volume of business, this organization has been enabled to confine its trade name to the better grades of oranges, lemons and grapefruit produced by its members. Consumers who buy these trade-marked fruits, therefore, are assured of the most select specimens from the golden groves. In this instance, advertising both protects the public as to quality and gives it a key for buying along the lines of higher quality.

Numerous other co-operative organizations of the producers of perishable food products are advertising and in every case there has been adopted ways and means whereby consumers are protected against inferior goods, which would lessen the reputation of the line. Instances in point are found among the almond growers, the apricot growers, the peach growers, the prune growers, the raisin growers and the walnut growers of California. Several bodies of northwestern apple orchardists, the peach raisers of Georgia, and growers of fruits, melons, nuts and vegetables elsewhere, are maintaining quality in substantiation of advertised claims. Almost without exception, the fact that a perishable is advertised means that the producers offer to consumers only produce of dependable quality.

In nine cases out of ten, when farmers and fruit growers advertise, this fact also may be taken to mean that they are striving to eliminate speculation from the handling of their products. In so far as this end is accomplished, the law of supply and demand has opportunity to function. With the older and stronger co-operative marketing bodies the effort to get rid of the speculators has been successful. Trade-

HEALTH OF WOMEN

How many perfectly well women do you know? Isn't it true that in order to keep up with the march of progress the endurance of woman is often strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is in many cases greater than she can stand. Headaches develop, and nervous irritability, backache, dragging down sensations, and other painful ailments peculiar to women. The reliable remedy when a woman gets into such a condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as for nearly half a century it has proved the natural restorative for those troubles.

SHOOTING US UP.

Kicks are made against the killers by a lot of grouchy cranks; being staid old social pillars, they forget their boyhood pranks. Everywhere I hear them saying, shuddering at every breath, "There's too much impromptu slaying, too much unexpected death. Any youth can get a rifle—guns are now his aims and goals—and then, for the merest trifle, he will shoot us full of holes. We are scared, like farmyard pullets when a hawk flies overhead, for we're always dodging bullets, always burying our dead." Thus the ancient men are knocking roosting in the parks and courts; and they, all consider shocking every kind of modern sports. Age makes people cold and narrow they can't sympathize with fun; they defend the bow and arrow as against the sawed off gun. And the kicks are growing louder, from these shelfworn, dotard folk; when they're shot with smokeless powder they can't take it as a joke. Every daily paper brings them further news o'er which to cuss; when a charge of buckshot wings them they kick up a beastly fuss. And they call for drastic measures cutting short the wave of crime, but the young must have their pleasures in this merry modern time.

WHERE YOU DON'T SEE it is a well known axiom that a woman is criticised for the back of her neck and for her face. When you look at a woman's face you are dealing with her personality; when you look at the back of her neck there is no personality, but only physical appearance.

Unfortunately this part of the body, which should be cared for most is most neglected. Few women, even sensible ones, think very much of their appearance beyond the parts they can see in a mirror. The hair around the face is becomingly done from the front, but the average girl does not stop to think what it looks like from the side or from the back.

The average girl also will take the best care of her neck as far around as she can see it. She will pat the skin with cold cream to keep it soft, and the bleaches to keep it white, and let the back of it grow brown and dry and coarse-pored for lack of necessary care.

Make it a hard and fast rule never to leave your dressing table without picking up your hand mirror and looking at your reflection from both sides and from the back. Be sure that your hair is fluffed becomingly around the ears, and that there are no untidy ends to hang down the back of your neck.

Above all, be sure that your collar and waist fit snugly and becomingly. E. W. T.—Olive oil will not have any tendency to darken the hair permanently.

CALL MEETING TO SELECT OFFICERS OF ORGANIZATION

Officers of the Guarantors' organization, formed to have charge of the Chautauqua for next summer, will be elected at a meeting of the Guarantors to be held Friday evening, at 7:30 o'clock at the Central High School Building.

At that time the nomination committee appointed on the last night of the Chautauqua here last week, will make its report, and officers will be elected and the work of organization completed. The organization will take the work of insuring the Chautauqua for next year out of the hands of any private organization, and make it a community affair, placing the burden of its success on the people most deeply interested in it.

Although guarantors insured the success of the Chautauqua this year, tickets were sold through W. C. T. U. but the present movement will rely that or any similar organization from the responsibility, by placing it entirely on the organization of guarantors. The nominating committee, which will place before the guarantors names of officers for the organization consists of C. A. Waltz, superintendent of the city schools; H. C. Aultman, superintendent of the county schools; William S. Sackett, superintendent of schools at the O. S. & S. O. Home; Mrs. W. H. McGervey and Miss Faye Cavanaugh.

CALLED BY DEATH LATE ON TUESDAY

Miss Belle Wilson, prominent resident of Greene County, passed away at her home on the Cedarville pike, between Cedarville and Clinton Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, after an illness of several months. Miss Wilson had been suffering for about three months from nervous trouble.

Miss Wilson had made her home with her sister, Miss Hulda Wilson and brother, Solomon. She was the daughter of Solomon and Sarah Baker Wilson, who preceded her in death several years ago. Miss Wilson was born in Greene County on February 18, 1857. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church at Clinton.

Besides her brother and sister, with whom she made her home, Miss Wilson is survived by two other brothers, Brinton of Augletree, Texas and William of Reynolds, Iowa.

Funeral services will be held at the home on Thursday at two o'clock.

MACHINE SHOP STILL OPERATES

The machine shop of the R. A. Kelly Company is not entirely closed down, according to a statement of officials, Wednesday.

Although the rope mills of the company have been closed temporarily during the present business depression period, the machine shop is continuing to run, although short-handed. This department is doing considerable machine repair work, that will keep part of its employees employed indefinitely, and unless necessitated it will not be closed, according to Company officials.

BAD LIQUOR IS NEARLY FATAL

Sabina, July 27.—Word from Sabina is to the effect that bootleg whisky was recently dispensed in that town with the result that two out of three imbibers were saved from death only by the prompt heroic work of physicians summoned when the men showed every indication of poisoning.

Reports indicate that the bootleg was a bad grade of "moonshine" manufactured in or near Sabina and may have contained some wood alcohol.

NEWSPAPER MAN NOW ENDORSES IT

McCormack Says He Could Hardly Get Through a Day's Work Before Taking Tanlac.

Patrick E. McCormack, of 2209 Pearl St., Cincinnati, Ohio, one of the best newspaper circulation men in the West, is now an ardent champion of the merits of Tanlac.

In an interview at the Illinois Central railroad station in Chicago recently, where he had just arrived from Cincinnati looking fine and expressed himself as feeling the same way, Mr. McCormack made the following statement:

"You may tell the people of Chicago for me that I have tried Tanlac and it's great. What it takes to build a man up and make him feel something this medicine certainly has it."

"Before I took it my appetite was so poor that meal time meant very little satisfaction to me, for I could hardly force down anything. What I did manage to eat caused severe pains in the pit of my stomach. Gas would form and tighten up my chest so I could hardly breathe and cause my heart to flutter terribly. I had sharp pains through my back and my nerves were so out of order that I could never get a good night's sleep. Such awful headaches came on me at times that I would nearly keel over and I often got so weak it was a struggle for me to get through a day's work."

"Well, it didn't take Tanlac long to set me right. Four bottles have made me a perfectly well man and I feel like praising it to everybody. My appetite is so big that I can hardly get enough to eat and I never feel a trace of indigestion. I get plenty of good, sound sleep every night and my weight has increased ten pounds. In fact I am in prime condition in every way and Tanlac gets a good recommendation from me everywhere I go."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill and by leading druggists everywhere.

delicate shade of yellow are the foundation and the negligible sleeves, capped with odd little wings of taffeta, an idea well suited to too-narrow shoulders. A deep red rose of velvet adds a piquant touch. This same pattern may be developed on a more elaborate plan by substituting a petticoat of plain or silver thread lace.

PATTERN No. 216

A pattern for the above model (No. 216) can be obtained in sizes 34, 36 or 38, by sending to LENORE, 8 WEST 40th ST., NEW YORK CITY, your name, address, the number of this pattern and the size required, and 50 cents in postage stamps. Be sure to keep this newspaper clipping of the sketch and description of the garment to use as a working model when the pattern reaches you—which will be within two weeks' time.—The Editor.

WANTS COMMISSION ON SALE

J. O. Flax and W. G. Watson, doing business as Flax and Watson, are plaintiffs in an action filed with Clerk of Courts C. S. Johnson, Tuesday, against E. A. Allen, for a $25.60 judgment.

The petition alleges the plaintiffs are in the real estate business and that about April 1, 1921, the defendant owning a farm in Silvercreek and New Jasper townships consisting of 289.25 acres valued at $150 an acre, contracted with the defendant for a trade or sale. The plaintiffs claim that June 21, 1921, they arranged a trade through The Ruffin Realty Company of Columbus, for the elevator and flour mill of E. V. Barr, at Stoutsville, Fairfield county. The petition states the trade was made at the rate of $160 an acre for the farm, but charges that the plaintiffs have never received their commission of two per cent, which amounts to $925.60. They ask for the amount with interest from July 16. L. T.

Marshall is attorney for the plaintiffs.

DINNER STORIES

Little Anna attends public school and has just passed her eighth birthday. A few days ago her teacher asked her how much 2 and 2 made and she got a little confused in her answer. The teacher thereupon dropped two cents on the floor and told Anna to pick them up. The teacher then asked: "How many have you now?" Anna replied: "Two."

"Now imagine there are two more on the floor," said the teacher, at the same time requesting Anna to go through the motion of picking up the imaginary pennies. "What have you now?" asked the school ma'am. Anna looked at her tiny fingers. "Dust!" she replied.

Wealth had carried Mrs. Nurich into exalted circles, of which she had hardly dared even to dream. At a big dinner party she was being shown the glories of an ancestral mansion by her hostess, and when passing along a corridor the latter lady paused before a marble bust. "Oo's that of?" asked Mrs. Nurich, with an air of great interest. "That is Marcus Aurelius," replied her hostess. "Oh! Is it?" exclaimed Mrs. Nurich. "But I wish you'd tell me," she went on confidently, "whether it's the old Marcus or the new one? I do get 'em mixed up so."

presented a calm exterior, while inwardly wondering how her offspring would acquit themselves in their new environment. Betty, if left to herself, would cause her no embarrassment, but Buster could always be relied upon to do the unexpected, particularly under new and interesting surroundings.

They finally returned under Nellie's escort with an air of suppressed excitement and elation. Hats and coats off and a certain amount of calm restored after the events of the afternoon, mother ventured to ask a few questions, while dreading the possible replies. "New children," she said, "you may tell me all about. What did you learn and what did you do?"

Buster, as usual, was the spokesman. "We sang," he announced proudly. "Teacher said it didn't matter if we didn't know the words—to just sing, and sing as loud as we could, and we did. Betty and I sang louder than any of the other kids."

"Was it a hymn you knew?" ventured mother timidly. "Onward, Christian Soldiers," perhaps?

"No," came Buster's exultant reply. "We didn't know the hymn. We sang 'Tipperary.'"

"What's the matter? You look thoughtful."

"My six-year-old son brought home a list of questions to answer."

"What of that?"

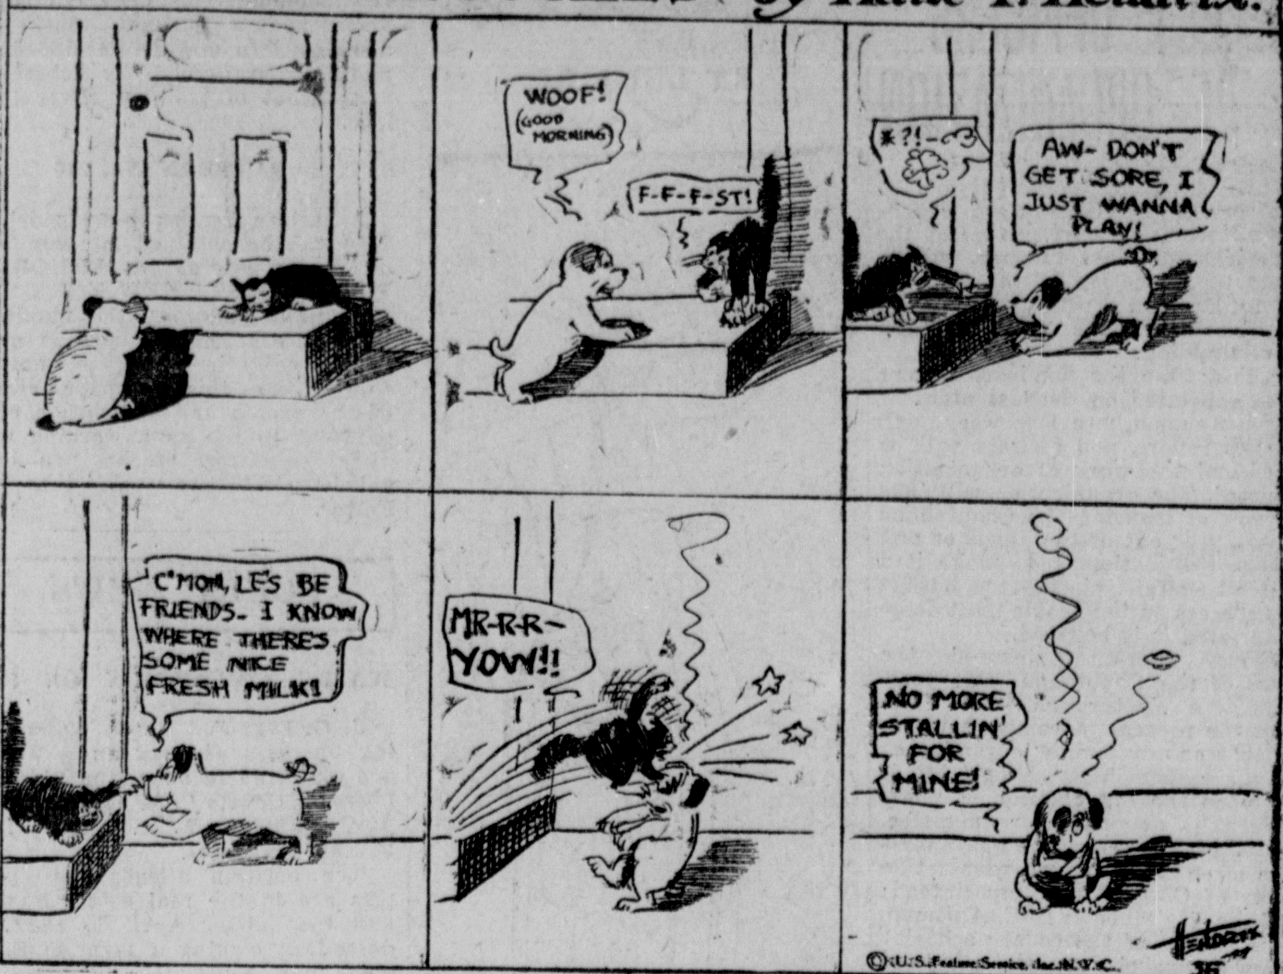

"My average ranks as a deficient kid."

FOREWORD

SO LITTLE IS KNOWN OF THE LOGGING INDUSTRY THAT WE TAKE GREAT PLEASURE IN PRESENTING THESE ABSOLUTELY UNAUTHORIZED VIEWS

HERE WE SEE THE BEAUTIFUL ST VITUS RIVER

LOGS COME FROM TREES AND ARE AN ESSENTIAL FACTOR IN THE LOGGING INDUSTRY. THE TREES ALONG THE ST VITUS ARE UNUSUALLY FREE FROM "NO TRESPASSING" SIGNS AND ARE THEREFORE EXCELLENT MATERIAL FOR LOGGING

WHEN CUT, THE LOGS ARE DRAGGED TO THE RIVER AND PUSHED RIGHT IN. SOON, HOWEVER, THEY BECOME ACCUSTOMED TO THE WATER, AND START FLOATING DOWN STREAM ON THEIR SIDES. THEN THE FUN BEGINS...

Hot weather diet
In summer especially must our food be of the kind that takes least energy to digest, for energy makes heat in the body as elsewhere. Fat enough to sustain, but no more—three light meals. If you are hungry between meals, satisfy yourself with a glass of cool milk, sipped not gulped down. Never eat when tired or hot. Dine if possible in the evening when the work is over and there is comparative coolness. Here are some blood-cooling fruits: Fresh juicy grapes, oranges, grapefruit, lemons and limes in lemonade, cantaloupe, watermelon, stewed rhubarb, peaches, cherries, berries, apples, pineapples, pears. And there are healthful vegetables: Tomatoes, celery, spinach, asparagus, lettuce, beets, onions, all green salads; also endive, chichory, romaine, water cress, tomato, lettuce. The right summer foods are: Thin soups or cold bouillon; fresh fish or fowl, roasted or broiled beef, mutton or lamb in moderation—meat once a day is enough in hot weather; eggs soft boiled, or scrambled, or lightly fried; simple desserts of gelatin, custard or ice creams. Cut out entirely or eat very sparingly of thick soups, canned meats, spices and condiments, nuts, cheese, bananas, dates, preserves, hot drinks. Both over-eating and over-drinking are to be avoided in the good old summer time. From such excess comes congestion of the liver, the stomach and intestines are gorged constipation results, the tongue is heavily coated, the bodily secretions are altered in composition, the nerves and the muscular system suffer; and, in consequence, there is headache, lassitude, drowsiness and mental stupor. Come a hot day then many such a sufferer is likely to succumb to a sunstroke or a heat stroke.

WEEKLY REPORT ON CROP CONDITIONS
By C. J. West, Agricultural Statistician.
Many fields of wheat in the State are not yielding more than from five to six bushels per acre and but few fields are reported at more than 20 bushels per acre, according to reports received by C. J. West, Agricultural Statistician. Threshing is about half done taking the State as a whole and the average quality is from seventy five to eighty per cent. There is universal complaint that wheat is turning out generally poor compared with the straw owing to the shortness of the heads and to the low quality of the grain. The charge for threshing runs from six to ten cents per bushel with a State wide average of seven and one half cents. The quality of the Oats threshed is reported as inferior in many sections of the State and with low yields. Numerous reports have been received of Oats fields allowed to stand without cutting. The drouth has seriously affected corn in certain sections of the State, though in parts of the State, notably the Southeastern, the rainfall has been ample, for the growth of corn. Chinch bugs are reported in Northwestern counties. GENERAL. Threshing and haying in progress. Dry weather has affected crops in many sections of the State. WHEAT. Wheat quality inferior with about half the threshing completed. OATS. Indications are for a low yield of Oats. General complaint of light grains. CORN. Corn is damaged by dry weather in some sections of the state. Generally coming into tassel. Chinch bugs reported in Northwestern counties.

COUNTY HAS FEWER POULTRY LOAFERS THAN 2 WEEKS AGO

Greene county already has 250 fewer lady loafers in its farm flocks than it did two weeks ago, when the Ohio poultry campaign got started. Initial reports from field workers just received and compiled by specialists of the poultry department, Ohio State University, show that out of 1,728 hens in Greene county taken in hand and judged for utility during this period, 15 per cent were found lacking and sent to the block. The average of culs found in flocks for the state as a whole has been 23 per cent.

Every county in Ohio will hold culling demonstrations in August, the 16 from which reports are now forthcoming being those that started early. Poultry specialists find that hot weather and scant grass has caused flocks to go early into molt and say that feather shedding time is the very best for picking out the profitless birds.

FORMER XENIAN SELLS OUT STUDIO

J. Lester Spahr, former Xenian, who for the last fifteen years has operated a studio of photography in Wilmington, has sold out his establishment to the Misses Parker and King of Camden, N. J., who will take charge at once.

The studio is located in the Murphy Theater building. The new proprietors have studied in Chicago and in the east and have been connected with a large establishment in Camden. They will locate permanently in Wilmington and continue the operation of the studio.

Beyond a fishing trip of four or five days, Mr. Spahr has not announced his plans for the future or whether he will remain in Wilmington.

DIES IN DAYTON AFTER OPERATION

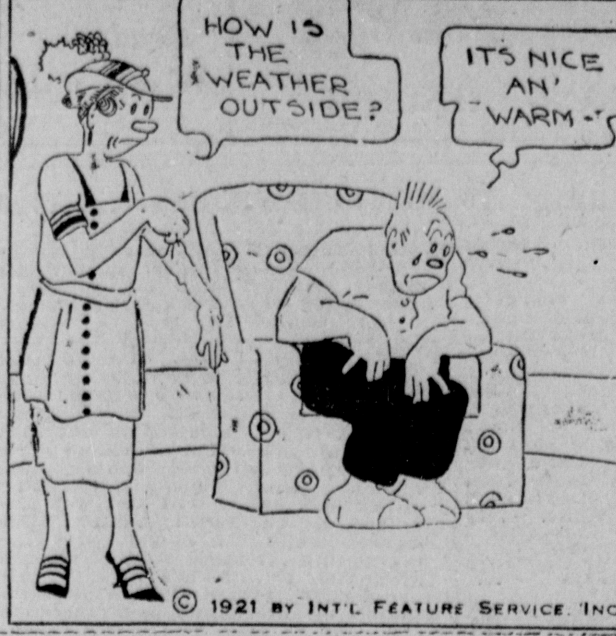

The many friends in this city of Louis C. Sherman, of Dayton, will be sorry to learn of the young man's death, at the Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, Monday following an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Sherman is well-known in this city, having visited here a number of times. Early in the war he enlisted in the 83rd division, and was shortly afterward transferred to the 114th machine gun battalion of the 13th division. He saw action at the battle front, with that division on the Hindenburg line. He was wounded in October, 1918, shortly before the signing of the armistice.

Following his discharge, Mr. Sherman became associated with his brothers, John Q. Sherman, and William C. Sherman of the Standard Register Co. At the time of his death he was office manager and one of the directors of the company.

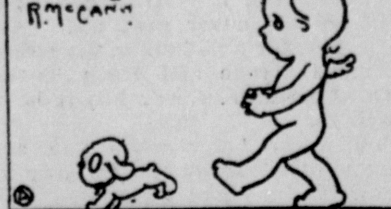

He is survived by his parents, Mr.

SUMMER SCHOOL NOW NEARS CLOSE

Wilmington, July 27.—The first term of the summer school at Wilmington College is nearing a close, there being less than a week of the term. The second term will begin August 1 and continue until September 3, with school on Saturdays making an equivalent of a six week course.

Never before in the history of the college has there been such an attendance at summer school as there has been this year and it is believed that the enrollment for the second term will be almost as large as that of the first term.

The regular college school year will begin Tuesday, Sept. 13.

LIGHTNING KILLS OHIOAN

Washington C. H., Ohio, July 27.—Warren Foster, 26, years old, was killed instantly by lightning, and two men, Charles and Chester Smith, were injured seriously when the Ellsworth farm in the southern part of Madison county, it became known here they had taken refuge from the storm in a tool shed.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

ANSWERED LETTERS

Business Girl: "Can you suggest some fancy article which I could make for a Church Fair? I want something that will be bought eagerly, yet which is not too hard to make."

Answer: Why not typewrite 12 good recipes on cards 4x5 inches in size, punch holes through these cards, and put them together with a plain, colored paper cover of some sort? A bit of gold or silver cord might be run through the holes, to hold them together and form a loop by which they could be hung on the kitchen wall. But be sure the recipes are "tried and true;" I would advise you to collect them from famous housewives in your vicinity and advertise this fact on the sales table.

"A Home Body": "My neighbors are forming a small club for the purpose of passing on housekeeping hints but we can't think of a good name for our little club. Can you suggest one?"

Answer: How about "The Lend-a-Hand Club?" or "The Short Cut Club?"

Mrs. J. M. H.: "Please tell me how one grows carnations, Cape Jasmine, Daisies and Geraniums."

Answer: It is best to buy the young plants, rather than the seeds. If you do not wish to buy these plants you do not wish to buy these plants from a florist in your vicinity, I can send you the name of a good seed catalogue house who will sell them to you by mail (send stamped, self-addressed envelope for this information.) I can also tell you the name of a good book on the care of the various plants and the name of the publisher from whom you can purchase this book by mail but I cannot print such information in the column, as that is advertising.

Mrs. J. C. S.: "Can you help me in regard to laundering my net curtains? I wish to avoid the unevenness which usually results from washing."

Answer: Many housekeepers today cannot afford curtain stretchers

but those who cannot may resort to the following means of making their curtains dry evenly and without shrinkage. Brush your net curtains well before attempting to wash them; shake all the dust you can out of them, or it will form a mud when the curtain is put into water. Next measure them and jot down their exact size. Then proceed to wash them, without soaking in lukewarm suds, made with a good white soap. Do the work quickly, not allowing time for them to soak and shrink. When you have put them through two suds-waters rinse in clear cold water and stretch them out on a clean sheet spread on the floor.

Now take your tape-measure and pull the curtains out to their original size (which you jotted down after measuring them, before washing); as you stretch the wet curtains to these exact measurements, stick pins along their edges to hold them to the sheet and carpet beneath. Open every window in the room and let dry in this way. If you put the pins near enough together, so as to keep the edge even you will not have to press the curtains with an iron at all.

DECLARES 'DE DUCKS' GOT HIS MONEY

Dubuque, Ia., July 27.—When a local farmer sold his corn recently and tried to explain to a banker the necessity of a loan, the niceties of market problems were outlined.

"But," the banker said, "I don't understand why you should want to borrow money when you have just

Vera in Her New Home. CHAPTER 103

For a little while I was wildly happy, in the love Keith evinced for me, the arranging of my lovely apartment, the shopping which I did unassisted by Margaret—her advice, her complaints. I was like a small child with a new top as I went from shop to shop selecting draperies, lovely stuffs for chairs, all sorts of things to beautify our home—my home.

shipped your corn. What did you do with the money?"

"De ducks got it," replied the farmer.

"What do you mean by 'de ducks'?" "Well," the farmer explained, "I shipped the car to market and sold it for 52 cents a bushel. They de duck freight, that left 31 cents; de duck 1 cent commission, that left 30 cents; de duck elevator charges, that left 27 cents; de duck husling, that left 15 cents; de duck hauling, that left 5 cents; de duck the hired man's wages from that and you are a darn sight better farmer than I am if you can find anything left."

SUMMER RESORT BECOMES POPULAR

Wilmington, July 27.—The Wilmington colony of campers who have gone at the summer out door life program with zest, is increasing in number every week, and the cottages are going up rapidly week by week.

Dozens of shanties, equipped for outdoor "light housekeeping," without much light and very little housekeeping on the daily routine of bathing, swimming, lounging, resting and reading, dot the landscape and the waterscape, and everybody is feasting much at home with the increasing number of home folk purchasing lots and moving in with hammer and nails to set up a cottage.

Gloria and Irene were almost daily visitors. Once Irene said:

"I think mother is a cat to act as she does. She's perfectly lovely about other things, but when it comes to you and Uncle Keith she is just horrid. What if she does love him! We all do, but I'd like to see any one take my husband away if I ever get one, even a sister."

"You mustn't talk like that," Irene. "Everything is all right now. Then I added: 'I hope sometime before very long, your mother will be able to see my side and be friends with me.'"

"She never will! Never!" Irene replied, emphatically. "I heard her tell Alice DeLisle that she'd never forgive you for taking Uncle Keith away from her. And Aunt Vera, do you know that it is partly because we can't have as much when he doesn't live with us? Although I heard him tell mother he would do all he could, and she shouldn't suffer any hardships because of what he did for you."

Perhaps I shouldn't have listened to Irene. But I was young enough to be curious, and also interested in what Keith did even though I knew now that I was safely sheltered in a home of my own.

"And, Aunt Vera, I heard mother say she would show you, you couldn't keep Uncle Keith away from her."

"Never mind, Irene. I guess Uncle Keith and I can manage our own affairs."

But what she had said made me uneasy. I had spent the time Keith had given Margaret in fussing about the apartment, keeping so busy that I really had not missed him as much as might have been expected. Then too, I had given my word that I would not object to his keeping his promise to be with her on Sundays and at the other stated times.

After Irene had gone I left my mind run back to the times he had left me. Surely it was oftener than he told me I had promised. Yes, he had been with her two evenings that week, as well as practically all of Sunday.

I would say nothing to him about it, but I would try to be clever enough to keep ahead of Margaret. I would make appointments to go somewhere, or have guests on the nights that were supposed to be given to me. Then if Keith objected, only because Margaret would, I would remind him of his agreement to give me the remainder of his time.

I did so long to be happy, not to either quarrel or fuss with Keith ever again. I had suffered too much to want anything but peaceful happiness in my new home.

I had no desire for gayety as I would have, had I not been so long unhappy. I wanted Keith and just the people who cared for me. But if I couldn't keep him any other way I would fill my home with guests; I would cater to every phase of his comfort just as Margaret had done.

"Yes, I would take a leaf from her book of action—several leaves if necessary."

"I have asked some people in for bridge tomorrow night," I said to Keith at breakfast.

"I'm sorry, dear, but Margaret asked me to come up after dinner."

"You were there last night Keith." "I know," rather impatiently, but I shall have to go and see her for a while to see what she wants."

I felt like saying that he had given her the week night he had promised her, but I bit my lip and kept the words back. I would try other tactics first. So I said quietly:

"We will wait to commence playing until you return. We can have a little music to fill in the time. I shall have only two tables." I then told him who I had invited, all particular friends of his.

"That will be just the thing," his face cleared. "I shan't stay long."

I was anything but happy over his defection so soon after we had started our home, but I did not allow him to see it. He went over to Margaret's as soon as we finished dinner. But he was back at 9 o'clock, soon after my guests arrived.

I knew by the way he looked that he had quarreled with Margaret. She probably had tried to keep him.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

THESE are critical days for CEDARVILLE COLLEGE, yet there is more real need for Cedarville College these days than ever before. Its future is secure only if it be equipped to rate as an Association Institution. If it can awaken men and women to some realizing sense of the meaning of LIFE and the GLORY OF BEING ALIVE; if it can make them citizens of INTEGRITY, and finally if it can secure an EXPANSION AND ENDOWMENT FUND with which these things may be accomplished.

RUNNING all through and permeating our national life is a new emphatic note of obligation upon our colleges. Cedarville College takes advantage of this occasion to drive home the imperative demand for funds to meet ITS OWN obligation. The outstanding fact which the public should not fail to recognize, is that an EXPANSION AND ENDOWMENT FUND is not simply a question of money but A NECESSARY MEANS TO A WORTHY END.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE'S prime consideration is, not the acquisition of a fund for the fund's sake, but the acquiring of it for the purpose of enabling the institution to meet the demands of the law. The RIGHT OF CEDARVILLE COLLEGE to exist lies in the fact that it produces citizens trained to WORK THOROUGHLY and PATIENTLY, and to think COGENTLY AND ACCURATELY. Her RIGHT to a lawful EXPANSION AND ENDOWMENT FUND lies in the same serious fact.

THE strength of Cedarville College is but a reflection of the strength of Greene County homes. The Institution does a work peculiar to itself. This work stamps the College as a REAL SUPPORTER AND PROTECTOR of our homes, because it prepares and equips, by education, our young men and women to support and sustain our homes. Whatever, therefore, protects man in his LIFE and PERSON, PROGENY and WELL BEING, is worthy of support. Thus appears the IMPORTANT AND PERMANENT VALUE OF CEDARVILLE COLLEGE TO GREENE COUNTY.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE, conscious of a quarter century of noble and honorable service now faces the obligation of the law; with an unwavering fidelity to duty, and feels confident that its appeal will be productive of a most generous response. GREENE COUNTY HOMES NEED CEDARVILLE COLLEGE; GREENE COUNTY CITIZENS APPLAUD IT; GREENE COUNTY CHURCHES BLESS IT. WILL YOU HELP IT?
